

Have you ever thought about volunteering for the WA Museum?

Help visitors uncover tales of exploration, disaster, mutiny and survival. Or perhaps help them to imagine sailing around the world alone. There are so many objects and stories just waiting for you to share at the Western Australian Maritime Museum's Fremantle sites.

The Western Australian Museum is looking for enthusiastic and engaging people to volunteer to assist with public engagement programs and activities. Join us for an information session to find out more.

Date: Thursday 24th March 2016

Time: 4:00-6:00 PM

Location: Western Australian Maritime Museum, Victoria Quay

Registrations are essential via <http://museum.wa.gov.au/museums/maritime/volunteers-information-session>

The session will cover:

- Overview of volunteering at the WA Museum
- Overview of the benefits of being a volunteer at the Western Australian Museum
- Demonstrations of public engagement activities:
 - Interactive Discovery Carts
 - Opportunities for questions
 - Interactive Discovery Zones
